

SHENSHEN (she/her): A flirtatious and frisky elf; LEETAH's sister - a gossip and a flirt.

SCRIPT SIDES: It's daybreak. Shenshen and Leetah are headed toward the Wolfrider camp (near their village) when Leetah's spurn lover, Rayek, makes an appearance.

SHENSHEN

Sounds like they're getting ready to retire for the day. Come with me, Leetah, I have some blankets to bring to the wolf children. (shivers) Those caves must be so cold and dank - even in the daytime!

LEETAH

You go. I don't want to.

SHENSHEN

Because of Cutter? Tsk tsk. Must you be so unforgiving? He may have frightened you, but he did no harm. And he apologized!

RAYEK

(pushing in) Shenshen! Leetah has enough sense to avoid those barbarians altogether! Especially Cutter!

SHENSHEN

I do not recall inviting your opinion on the matter.

RAYEK

Little fool! Just as enchanted by those jackals as the rest of the village. (storms off)

SHENSHEN

Well! By the midday fumes! He grows more ill-mannered every day!

LEETAH

The strangers make him nervous. That's all.

SHENSHEN

Puh! He's needed a good taking-down for some time! And sun bless me, I think Cutter may be the one to do it!
